

Interkids Bilingual School English Morning Radio Programme

It was on June 19, 2007 when the IBS2 English Morning Radio Program was formally launched by the Office of the Student Affairs under the idea and effort of Mr. Paul Gomez. The pilot edition of the radio program was exciting and full of fun learning. The program was led by Mr. Rey Jagolina as the main facilitator of the radio program. Prior to this, the office of the student affairs conducted a simple audition or assessment for those students who have the talent and ability in news reporting. The qualified students then were selected and began training them before the pilot episode comes. The front office has served as its home station during the few months of doing the radio program.

Eventually, the radio program station was transferred outside of the front office which parents can have a visual of what the radio program was all about. Best student reporters were also acknowledged by awarding them certificate of achievement in the field of news reporting.

From then on, IBS2 students are used to hearing this English Morning Radio Program on the air, and it has been a part of the English environment here in IBS2.

And now, the IBS2 English Morning Radio Program is on its 4th year of providing an exciting learning experience for all IBS students even outside of their classrooms. And several teachers are now being assigned to facilitate the radio program for more effective and systematic flow of the program.

Moreover, the Office of the Student Affairs is continuously looking for the improvement and development of this English Morning Radio Program for the fulfillment of its missions, and these are:

- To develop students' understanding and appreciation of communication theory;
- To improve students' awareness of the important role of communication in the school as well as in the society;
- To enhance student's communication skills;
- To develop student's self-confidence when speaking in public.

Time slot:

7.30 – 7.55 a.m.

Description of the programme:

As outlined in the mission statement, the responsibility and privilege of the morning programme as a form of student communication is to provide a resource that serves a clear alternative for them to learn even outside classrooms, the foremost of which are:

- Weather news;
- Health news;
- IBS news and info (updates on what's happening in the school community);
- On the spot English conversation;
- Basic Chinese conversation;
- Story reading;
- Vocabulary words;
- Birthday greetings;
- Horoscope;
- and a lot more!
